The laying up of the towboats and barges belonging to Captain Oscar Bar-rett on account of the ice costs him at least $1,000 a day.

Several Pittsburgh boats are reported to be aground at Wheeling, among them being the Sam Brown and Fred Wilson. It is thought that the ice will not harm them, as they can be floated safely with high water.

The tows of the Joe B. Williams, Sam Clarke, Smoky City and Boaz, now on the way to Nev Orleans, amount to life coalboats and 18 model harges of steel rails.
